at 0400 on Wednesday 30 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with some good spells of sunshine.

Today:
A cloudy start for many central, northern and eastern parts with perhaps a few spots of drizzle but cloud lifting and breaking this morning. Otherwise a dry day with some long spells of warm sunshine, although east coast cooler.

Tonight:
A dry evening with some late sunshine then long clear spells overnight. However cloudier conditions may return to eastern coasts and perhaps the central Belt through the early hours.

Thursday:
Cloudier conditions becoming confined to the far southeast, where a little drizzle possible, otherwise some decent spells of warm sunshine, just the chance of an isolated shower in the southwest.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Still some warm sunshine through Friday and the weekend. However it gradually becomes more unsettled with showers becoming more frequent, especially on Sunday when they may be heavy and thundery.
